

Walberswick Website APM

There is little to report about the Walberswick website this year. It is now in its 16th year and is running smoothly. Its administrators are Andrew Lewis, Claire Whittenbury and myself, Kay Ungless, together with sub-editors Mark Knight, Martin Lovick, Matthew Wetmore, Diana Wright, Karen Lewis, Paul Bradley, Pat Lancaster and Mitchell Pocock.

Launched in 2009, it continues to expand and keep up with events in Walberswick. It should be your first port of call if you are searching for anything that has happened in Walberswick since that time. Nothing has been removed except for items required by the Data Protection Act.

You will find everything you need to know about the Parish Council, planning applications, the History of Walberswick, the Common Lands Charity, or how to book the Heritage Hut, the Village Hall, and the Communal beach hut.

There are many links making it easy to find when the ferry is running, when the mobile library calls, what bin to put out this week, and the latest from WALL. However, we remain a strictly non-commercial site so you will not find an emergency plumber or a locksmith.

We welcome your suggestions on what might also be included, and your criticisms when links don't work! Our pages are almost infinite.
